

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR THE PROVISION OF ELECTRONIC SERVICES

(hereinafter: “Terms and Conditions”)

§ 1.

Definitions

The terms used in these Terms and Conditions have the following meanings:

1. Platform – the website located at <https://select8.ai/pl/>, owned by the Company, through which the Service Recipient may, among other things, manage requests for proposals.
2. Company – Select8 Sp. z o.o., with its registered office in Wrocław, address: ul. Legnicka 57D, apt. B/J, entered in the Register of Entrepreneurs of the National Court Register maintained by the District Court for Wrocław-Fabryczna, 6th Commercial Division of the National Court Register, under KRS number: 0001073630, Tax ID (NIP): 8943225030, Statistical ID (REGON): 527076067, share capital: 50,000 PLN,
3. Service Recipient – a sole proprietor, a legal entity, or an organizational unit without legal personality that intends to use the services made available through the Platform or uses the electronic services available on the Platform. Only an entity conducting business activity may be a Service Recipient. Only authorized employees or associates of the Service Recipient may enter into the Agreement on behalf of the Service Recipient. A Service Recipient may only be an entity conducting business activity if the nature of the Service indicates that it is not of a professional nature for that person, as determined in particular by the scope of the business activity conducted by the entity, as disclosed pursuant to the provisions governing the Central Register and Information on Economic Activity.
4. Service – a service provided by the Company to Service Recipients online, consisting of access to tools that enable the sending and management of requests for proposals using, among other things, artificial intelligence tools.
5. Electronic Service – a service provided electronically by the Company via the Platform, consisting of making the Platform’s functionality available.
6. Agreement – a service agreement concluded between the Company and the Service Recipient via the Platform under the terms and conditions set forth in the Terms of Service accepted by the Service Recipient, pursuant to which the Company is obligated to provide the Service Recipient with the Services.
7. Account – an account maintained for the Service Recipient under a unique name (username) and secured by a password, through which the Service Recipient may use specific features of the Platform.
8. Party – the Service Recipient and the Company.

§ 2.

General Provisions

1. These Terms of Service set forth the rules and conditions governing the Service Recipients’ use of the Platform and their use of the services available on the Platform.
2. The Company is the administrator and owner of the Platform.
3. Service Users may contact the Company via:

- a) phone: +48 71 758 32 50
 - b) email at helpdesk@select8.ai
4. The Company responds without undue delay to inquiries sent Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.
 5. Before beginning to use the Platform, the Company makes the Terms of Service available to Service Users free of charge on the Platform. The content of the Terms of Service may be preserved by the Service User by downloading it, saving it to a storage medium, or printing it at any time directly from the Platform.

§ 3.

General Rules for Using the Platform

1. Any actions that hinder the operation of or destabilize the Platform are prohibited.
2. The User may not upload unlawful content to the Platform.
3. The Platform is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.
4. The Company may temporarily suspend use of the Platform in connection with ongoing modernization or reconstruction work on the Platform. The Company undertakes to perform such work in a manner that is least disruptive to Service Users and, to the extent possible, to notify Service Users of the work being performed.
5. Brief technical interruptions in the Platform's operation do not constitute a breach of the Agreement, and the Service Recipient may not demand a refund of the subscription fee or compensation on this basis.
6. All content posted on the Platform, in particular descriptions, photos, graphic design, logos, databases, and technical solutions, is subject to copyright or related rights held by the Company and is protected by law under the Act on Copyright and Related Rights and the Act on the Protection of Databases. Reproduction, copying, or any other use of this content without the Company's express written consent is strictly prohibited.
7. By posting any content on the Platform (in particular logos, offer descriptions, and photos), the Service Recipient grants the Company a non-exclusive, territorially unlimited, and royalty-free license for the duration of the Agreement to use such content for the purpose of properly providing the Services, including the right to reproduce, publicly display it, and adapt it to the technical requirements of the Platform.

§ 4.

Technical Requirements

1. The Company guarantees the proper functioning of the Platform only when the following web browsers are used in their current versions:
 - a) Microsoft Edge;
 - b) Google Chrome;
 - c) Mozilla Firefox;
 - d) Opera.
2. To use the Platform, and in particular to use the Services that the Company provides online, you must:
 - a) an active Internet connection (wired or wireless);
 - b) a device capable of accessing the Internet;

- c) the Service Recipient must have an active email account;
- d) a web browser.

§ 5.

Electronic Services

1. Through the Platform, the Company enables the Service Recipient to use the following features: sending and managing requests for proposals.
2. The Agreement for the Provision of Electronic Services is concluded between the Service Recipient and the Company for an indefinite term upon the Service Recipient successfully opening the Platform's website in the browser window of their device or upon the Service Recipient being redirected to the Platform.
3. The Agreement for the Provision of Electronic Services is terminated when the Service Recipient leaves the Platform.
4. The conclusion of the agreement for the provision of electronic services is voluntary and free of charge.
5. To use the Platform's features, including browsing the Platform's content, it is necessary to enter into an agreement for the provision of electronic services.
6. Complaints regarding Electronic Services may be submitted via email to the address provided in the contact information. In the complaint, the Service Recipient should provide their first and last name, mailing address, and the nature and date of the issue related to the Electronic Services provided. Complaints will be reviewed by the Company within 14 days.

§ 6.

Scope of Services

1. Through the Platform, the Company enables the Service Recipient to use, in particular, the following features:
 - a) sending requests for proposals;
 - b) managing requests for proposals;
 - c) analyzing offers using artificial intelligence.
2. The Company reserves the right to expand or modify the scope of features available on the Platform.

§ 7.

Conclusion of the Agreement

1. The Company does not allow the Service Recipient to independently and automatically register an Account directly through the Platform.
2. In order to begin using the Service, the Service Recipient is required to first contact the Company (via the contact form available on the Platform, by email, or by phone) to verify the Service Recipient's needs and the feasibility of providing the Service.
3. After completing the verification referred to in paragraph 2 and establishing the technical and business parameters of the collaboration, the Company generates individual authentication credentials (username and password) for the Service Recipient and sends them to the email address provided by the Service Recipient.
4. The Agreement is concluded when the Service Recipient fulfills all of the following conditions:

- a) logging in to the Platform for the first time using the username and password issued by the Company;
 - b) submitting a statement confirming that they have read the Terms of Service and accept all of its provisions by checking the appropriate checkbox during the initial login process.
5. Failure to meet any of the conditions listed in paragraph 4 means that the Agreement has not been concluded, and the Service Recipient does not gain access to the Platform's functionality.
 6. The person logging in for the first time and accepting the Terms of Service on behalf of a Service Recipient who is a business entity represents and warrants that they have full authority to represent that Service Recipient. In particular, they are authorized to enter into agreements and incur financial obligations on the Service Recipient's behalf.
 7. The Company may request documents confirming the authority referred to in the preceding paragraph.
 8. The Service Recipient represents and warrants that it is entering into the Agreement for a purpose directly related to its business activities and that the Agreement is of a professional nature for the Service Recipient.
 9. The Agreement may also be concluded at the time the Parties enter into a written Order. In the event of a conflict between the Order and these Terms and Conditions, the provisions of the Order shall prevail.

§ 8.

Prohibition on Sharing Username and Password

1. A single Service Recipient may have multiple Accounts created on the Platform.
2. An Account is assigned to a specific person or entity.
3. The Service Recipient is not authorized to disclose their login and password to third parties. The Service Recipient is the sole person authorized to use the Account.
4. The Service Recipient is not permitted to transfer rights to the Account to third parties without the Company's prior consent.
5. The Service Recipient agrees to keep the login and password confidential. The Service Recipient also agrees not to facilitate access to the Account for third parties.
6. The User may use the Account only in accordance with these Terms of Service and generally applicable laws.
7. It is prohibited to use information posted on the Platform to send unsolicited commercial communications.
8. The User agrees to notify the Company without undue delay of any suspected use of the Account by third parties.

§ 9.

Free Access to the Services

1. As part of the provision of the Services, after logging into the Account for the first time, the Service Recipient may use the Services free of charge for a specified period (hereinafter: "Free Trial Period").
2. Each Service User is entitled to one Free Trial Period.

3. The expiration of the Free Trial Period does not automatically result in the Service Recipient being switched to the paid version of the Service. The Service Recipient will not be charged any fees in connection with the expiration of the Free Trial Period.
4. The Free Trial Period lasts 14 days from the date the Agreement is entered into, unless otherwise agreed upon by the Parties.
5. The free trial period may be extended.
6. The Service Recipient's use of the Free Trial Period does not obligate the Service Recipient to subsequently purchase paid access to the Service (hereinafter: "Subscription").
7. The Parties may also agree via email or telephone to extend or renew the Free Trial Period.
8. Upon expiration of the Free Trial Period, the agreement for the provision of the free service is terminated, and access to the Platform's features is automatically blocked.
9. If the User does not purchase paid access to the Services, the Company may permanently delete the Account 14 days after the Account is suspended. Permanent deletion of the Account involves the removal of all data and backups.

§ 10.

Access to Paid Services

1. After the Free Trial Period, the Subscriber may contact the Company to purchase paid access to the Service. Contact may be made via email at kontakt@select8.ai or by phone at +48 71 758 32 50
2. To use the Subscription, the User must submit an Order specifying the essential terms of the Agreement.
3. The condition for full use of the Platform after the Free Trial Period expires is the Service Recipient's voluntary and explicit order of a paid Subscription, the provision of billing information, and the completion of payment in accordance with the Order.

§ 11.

Payments

1. Use of the Service is subject to a fee, unless the Agreement, the Order, or the trial plan selected by the Subscriber provides otherwise.
2. All prices listed in the Order are net prices, to which value-added tax (VAT) will be added at the rate specified by currently applicable law.
3. The Service is provided in billing periods (monthly, quarterly, or annually), in accordance with the Service Recipient's selection made upon placing the Order or while using the Service.
4. Fees are charged in advance for the entire upcoming billing period, unless the Order provides otherwise.
5. The date of payment is deemed to be the moment the Company's bank account is credited or the payment operator issues a positive transaction authorization.
6. Invoices for the provision of services will be sent exclusively via the KSeF system.
7. In the event of a late payment, the Company may:
 - a) send the Service Recipient an electronic payment reminder and set an additional payment deadline of no less than 3 days;

- b) after the deadline specified in subparagraph (a) above has expired without result, the Company may block access to the Account until the Service Recipient has paid the amount due in full. This does not relieve the Service Recipient of the obligation to pay for the period during which access to the Account was blocked;
 - c) to claim from the Service Recipient interest for late payment in commercial transactions and compensation for the costs of debt collection.
8. If the Account is blocked due to non-payment for a period exceeding 14 days, the Company has the right to terminate the Agreement with immediate effect due to the Service Recipient's fault and to permanently delete all of the Service Recipient's data from the Platform.

§ 12.

Force Majeure

1. The Parties shall not be liable for non-performance or improper performance of the Agreement to the extent that such non-performance or improper performance results from a force majeure event.
2. The term "force majeure" includes any cause affecting a Party's performance of the subject matter of the Agreement that is related to actions, events, acts of God, or accidents beyond the Party's control; in particular, these include floods, natural disasters, wars, acts of war, attacks by external enemies, rebellions, terrorism, blockades, pandemics, epidemics, coups d'état, and civil wars.
3. Each Party undertakes to immediately notify the other Party of the occurrence of circumstances constituting force majeure.
4. The affected Party, which has been impacted by force majeure, undertakes to take the necessary measures to minimize the effects resulting from the force majeure event and its duration.

§ 13.

Prohibition on Mass Downloading of Content

1. The User agrees to use the Platform solely for personal purposes and in accordance with its intended use.
2. The use of any automated tools, including bots, crawlers, spiders, "screen scraping" scripts, or other mechanisms for automatically browsing, monitoring, copying, downloading data (including prices and descriptions), or indexing the Platform's content without the Company's prior consent is prohibited.
3. The Service Recipient is responsible for actions taken using automated systems as if they were their own actions.
4. Mass downloading of content from the Platform is prohibited, including the mass downloading of attachments located on the Platform.
5. Activities involving the mass downloading of content from the Platform for the purpose of its further use in competitive activities, price comparison sites, or offer aggregators, , will be treated as an act of unfair competition within the meaning of the Act on Combating Unfair Competition, which may result in civil and criminal liability.

6. It is prohibited to use content posted on the Platform to create competitive services, engage in acts of unfair competition, create data compilations, or train AI models.
7. Any action intended to infringe upon the Company's legitimate interests is prohibited.
8. Users may not circumvent the limits set on the Platform, anti-bot mechanisms, or other mechanisms used on the Platform.
9. The Company expressly reserves the right to prohibit text and data mining for purposes other than scientific research, as referred to in the regulations implementing Directive 2019/790. This prohibition applies to all content available on the Platform.
10. The Service Recipient is prohibited from performing any reverse engineering or decompilation of the Platform's technical solutions for the purpose of determining their structure or operating principles, or of obtaining information constituting the Company's trade secrets.
11. The Service Recipient may use the AI tools made available on the Platform solely for the purpose of providing the Services. It is prohibited to use the AI tools to perform tasks other than those related to the scope of the Services.

§ 14.

Consequences of Violating the Terms of Service

1. If the Company detects a violation of the provisions of these Terms of Service, an action contrary to generally applicable laws, or an action detrimental to the Company, the Company may, at its sole discretion:
 - a) suspend the Service Recipient's access to the Account;
 - b) suspend access to the Platform via specific IP addresses;
 - c) close the account;
 - d) secure evidence of the violation;
 - e) demand the return of unjust enrichment;
 - f) demand that the consequences of the infringement be remedied;
 - g) seek damages under general principles;
 - h) pursue other claims arising from generally applicable laws, including provisions regarding acts of unfair competition;
 - i) block some or all of the Platform's functionality for a given user;
 - j) temporarily block the ability to download attachments;
 - k) temporarily limit the Platform's bandwidth.
2. The Company shall notify the Service Recipient of the Account suspension via email.
3. The Company may use appropriate systems to monitor traffic and analyze user behavior in order to ensure security and protect against unauthorized data retrieval.
4. If the Company detects behavior patterns characteristic of bots or scripts, this constitutes grounds for applying the consequences provided for in the Terms of Service.

§ 15.

Termination of the Agreement

The rules for terminating the Agreement are set forth in the Order.

§ 16.

Liability

1. The Company disclaims liability for indirect damages and lost profits.
2. The Company shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of third parties, unless otherwise provided by generally applicable law.
3. The Company limits its liability for damages resulting from the improper provision of services covered by these Terms and Conditions or from a failure to provide services to an amount equal to the sum of subscription fees actually paid by the Service Recipient to the Company for the 3-month period preceding the event giving rise to the damages.

§ 17.

Use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) Technology and Liability

1. The Company hereby informs, and the Service Recipient acknowledges, that selected features of the Platform operate based on artificial intelligence (AI) algorithms, including generative models and machine learning.
2. The Service Recipient is required to exercise particular caution and critical judgment when using the results of AI processing. Each result must be verified by a person with the appropriate expertise before it is used in any business or operational activities.
3. The Service Recipient acknowledges that AI technology is subject to the phenomenon known as “hallucinations,” in which an AI model generates information that is false, inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading, even though it sounds coherent and credible.
4. The results generated by the Platform are intended solely for auxiliary, educational, or illustrative purposes.
5. The Company uses reasonable efforts to ensure that the AI Models function properly; however, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, it does not guarantee the accuracy, reliability, completeness, fitness for a particular purpose, or error-free nature of the generated results.
6. The Service Recipient uses the results of the AI's work at their own risk and responsibility.
7. The Service Recipient agrees not to input into the AI Models via the Platform any data that is unlawful, confidential (including trade secrets of third parties), or special categories of personal data (sensitive data), unless a specific feature explicitly provides for such input.

§ 18.

Software Versions

1. The Company provides the Service based on the current version of the software and has the right to make changes to its functionalities, structure, and code.
2. The Company has the right to discontinue older versions of the software available on the Platform and replace them with new ones.
3. The Customer will be notified at least 30 days in advance of the planned discontinuation of a version and the need to migrate to a newer version.
4. If the Customer does not accept the new version, they are entitled to terminate the Agreement immediately as of the date the old version is discontinued, without the right to claim compensation in this regard.

§ 19.
Reporting Content

1. The Company designates the email address kontakt@select8.ai as the single point of contact for direct communication with the authorities of Member States, the European Commission, the Digital Council, and Platform Users regarding matters related to the application of the Digital Services Act (DSA).
2. Communication shall take place in Polish.
3. Any person or entity that believes that content posted on the Platform by Service Recipients (e.g., offer descriptions, attachments) is illegal or violates the Terms of Service may submit a report to the email address specified in paragraph 1.
4. The report referred to in paragraph 3 should be sufficiently precise and properly substantiated. It is recommended that it include:
 - a) a clear explanation of the reasons why the information in question is considered illegal or in violation of the Terms of Service;
 - b) the unambiguous digital location of such information (e.g., URL, listing number);
 - c) the reporter's first and last name or business name and email address (except for reports concerning information related to sexual offenses against children);
 - d) a statement confirming the reporter's good faith that the information and allegations are accurate and true.
5. Upon receiving a report, the Company immediately sends the reporter a confirmation of receipt, then investigates the matter and makes a decision (e.g., to remove the content, block the listing, or decline to take action). The Company notifies both the reporter and the Service User whose content was the subject of the report of the decision made and the reasons for it.

§ 20.
Risks

1. The Company hereby informs you that the use of services provided electronically via the Internet involves potential digital risks. The primary risks include:
 - a) malware (e.g., viruses, Trojan horses, Internet worms),
 - b) attempts to unlawfully obtain data or extract information (phishing),
 - c) unauthorized access by third parties to data transmitted over the network (sniffing) or stored on the Service Recipient's device,
 - d) spyware that tracks network activity.
2. To minimize the risk of the threats referred to in paragraph 1, the Service Recipient should implement appropriate technical safeguards, in particular:
 - a) legitimate and up-to-date antivirus software with real-time protection enabled,
 - b) an active firewall,
 - c) up-to-date versions of web browsers and the operating system,
 - d) secure, unique passwords for the Account and refraining from sharing them with third parties.

§ 21.
Confidentiality Clause

1. For the purposes of this Agreement, “Confidential Information” shall mean any information exchanged between the Parties (both prior to the conclusion of this Agreement—including during negotiations—and after its conclusion) concerning their commercial and operational activities, financial, economic, technological, and organizational matters, as well as other information regarding the Parties, their affiliates, their customers, advisors, and all other persons bound by relevant agreements with the Parties, provided by the Parties in written, electronic, or oral form, including, in particular, information obtained from the Parties and their employees and associates, regardless of whether such information has been expressly designated as Confidential Information.
2. This obligation does not apply to information that:
 - a) was publicly available at the time of its disclosure;
 - b) was in the possession of the Parties prior to its disclosure by the Parties, their shareholders, or other persons;
 - c) was obtained from a third party authorized to disclose it;
 - d) was disclosed by the Parties, or on their behalf, in compliance with a disclosure obligation under applicable law.
3. During the term of this Agreement and for a period of 48 (forty-eight) months following the expiration or termination of this Agreement, each Party agrees to:
 - a) keep all Confidential Information confidential;
 - b) not to use the Confidential Information obtained in any manner or for any purpose other than for the performance of the Agreement, and in particular for any purpose contrary to the interests of the other Party;
 - c) not to use the Confidential Information obtained to the detriment of the other Party, in particular through conduct constituting an act of unfair competition in accordance with the provisions of the Act of April 16, 1993, on Combating Unfair Competition;
 - d) not to disclose Confidential Information to third parties without obtaining the prior written consent of the other Party;
 - e) to ensure that, in the event Confidential Information is disclosed or made available to third parties with the other Party’s consent, such third parties are required to sign an appropriate confidentiality agreement. A Party shall be liable for any breach of the confidentiality obligation by persons to whom it has disclosed Confidential Information.

§ 22.

Personal Data Protection

1. The Company is the controller of personal data processed in connection with the use of the Platform and the provision of Services.
2. In matters related to the processing of personal data, the Service Recipient may contact the Company via email at , as indicated in § 2 of the Terms of Service. If the Company has appointed a data protection officer, the officer’s contact information is provided in the Privacy Policy.
3. The Company processes personal data for the following purposes and on the following legal grounds:

- a) taking action at the Service Recipient's request prior to entering into the Agreement, as well as entering into and performing the Agreement, including verifying the Service Recipient's needs, preparing the terms of cooperation, creating and managing the Account, providing authentication credentials, providing the Services, managing the Free Trial Period, Subscriptions, and handling complaints—Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR;
 - b) fulfilling the Company's legal obligations, in particular tax, accounting, and obligations related to issuing invoices in the KSeF system—Article 6(1)(c) of the GDPR;
 - c) ensuring the security of the Platform, preventing abuse, monitoring traffic and analyzing user behavior, improving the Platform's operations, quality, and functionality, handling reports regarding content, and pursuing or defending claims—Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR.
4. Content submitted by the Service Recipient via the Platform, in particular requests for proposals, responses to such requests, and bidder activity—including offers and attachments—may contain personal data of third parties. To the extent that such data is processed on behalf of the Service Recipient, the Service Recipient remains the controller of that data, and the Company processes it as a processor pursuant to Article 28 of the GDPR and the provisions of the Agreement or a separate data processing agreement.
 5. If the Company obtains personal data in a manner other than directly from the data subject—in particular, data of persons acting on behalf of the Service Recipient or data contained in content transmitted via the Platform—the information required under Article 14 of the GDPR shall be provided within the time limits specified in that provision, subject to the exceptions set forth in the GDPR. With respect to data entrusted by the Service Recipient, the obligation to fulfill the information requirement toward the data subjects whose data is contained in the transmitted content rests with the Service Recipient.
 6. Recipients of personal data may include entities providing hosting and IT infrastructure services to the Company, providers of artificial intelligence tools and application programming interfaces (APIs), providers of analytical tools, payment processors, entities providing accounting or consulting services, and public authorities authorized to receive such data under applicable law. Detailed information about data recipients can be found in the Privacy Policy.
 7. Providing personal data is voluntary; however, providing the data necessary to enter into and perform the Agreement, create an Account, or provide the Services is required to achieve these purposes. Failure to provide such data may prevent the conclusion of the Agreement, the creation of an Account, or the use of the Platform. Providing data required by law is mandatory to the extent specified by such laws.
 8. Personal data is retained for the period necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, for the duration of the Agreement, and after its termination, for the period required by law—in particular, tax and accounting regulations—as well as for the period during which claims may be asserted. If data is processed based on consent, it is retained until such consent is withdrawn, unless further retention is based on another legal basis. Specific data retention periods are set forth in the Privacy Policy.

9. The data subject has the right, under the terms set forth in the GDPR, to access personal data, to have it rectified, to have it erased, to restrict its processing, to have it ported, and to object to its processing. If the basis for processing is consent, the data subject may withdraw it at any time, without affecting the lawfulness of the processing carried out prior to its withdrawal. To exercise these rights, please contact the Company as indicated in paragraph 2.
10. The data subject has the right to lodge a complaint with the President of the Personal Data Protection Office.
11. Personal data may be processed automatically using artificial intelligence tools to the extent necessary to provide the Services, in particular to analyze offers. The results generated by the Platform are of an auxiliary, educational, or illustrative nature and do not constitute an independent basis for making decisions regarding the data subject that have legal effects or similarly significantly affect the data subject.
12. Detailed information regarding the processing of personal data, including information about the purposes and legal bases for processing, data recipients, retention periods, any transfer of data outside the European Economic Area, the rights of data subjects, automated processing, cookies, and the rules for using artificial intelligence tools, can be found in the Privacy Policy.

§ 24.

Final Provisions

1. These Terms and Conditions are effective as of September 24, 2026.
2. In matters not covered by these Terms and Conditions, the provisions of Polish law shall apply.
3. These Terms and Conditions have been prepared in two language versions: Polish and English. In the event of any conflict between the language versions, the Polish version shall prevail.
4. In the event of a legal dispute, all disputes shall be resolved by the court having jurisdiction over the Company's registered office.
5. If any provision of these Terms and Conditions proves to be invalid, ineffective, or unenforceable under applicable law, this shall not affect the validity or effectiveness of the remaining provisions of these Terms and Conditions. In such a case, the Parties agree to replace the invalid provision with a new one that most closely reflects the economic and legal purpose of the original provision.
6. The Company may amend these Terms of Service at any time. To do so, it is required to notify Service Recipients of the amendment via email at least 14 days in advance. Within 14 days of receiving notice of the amendment to the Terms and Conditions, the Service Recipient may submit a notice of termination of the Agreement, effective as of the day preceding the amendment to the Terms and Conditions. To meet the deadline referred to above, it is sufficient to send the notice of termination of the Agreement before its expiration to the address provided in the contact information.

